

Using Google Docs for LLD English 4 class to create study guide for Frankenstein test.

1. Open google docs
2. Start new page by hitting the + button on the lower right hand corner.
3. Put heading
4. Start typing. As we were discussing the character information, I typed the information into Google docs and displayed it on the Eno board. The students copied the information off the Eno board. I used different colors to help the student identify the different concepts. The students used the colored pencils when taking down the notes.
5. This review was created over two days.
Also if any student was absent I could print them a copy of the study guide.
