Driver Ed – Technology – 3rd lesson.

The objective of this lesson was to search 5 websites that they could use to test themselves in preparation for the N.J. State Drivers Exam. Students were to send to me the websites and give me their scores for each of the test that they gave me. As a follow up I had the students the next day do the three most popular sites from the total accumulated list I received. The students then took the test in the order listed on the board competing to see who could get the highest grade on each practice test.
